

FARMER'S DAY OCT. 20TH.

BIG DAY PLANNED FOR PEOPLE OF COUNTY AND TOWN.

Premium List and Prizes Offered Representing a Value of Over $2000.

Thursday Oct. 20, is going to be the big Community Day this year for town and county. Farmers' Day has been insured against rain. The management pays $45 and loses if it is clear and the insurance company pays $700 if it rains.

The arrangements are about complete for the day, having been worked out by various committees and members of the Adams County Farm Bureau, who are assisting the Chamber of Commerce and business men in putting the day over. All bands of the county have been invited and there will be a parade. A block dance will end the day.

The Farm Bureau expects to have an elaborate exhibition from State Department of Agriculture and exhibit the same in Peckman & Ott's Ford show room. There will be a livestock exhibition of pigs, the three Boys' Pig Clubs of the county and others will have exhibits. High Schools have been asked to send teams of three boys to judge dairy cows. The apple exhibit has been arranged for the lobby of the Hoffman House and promises to be highly creditable notwithstanding the bad fruit year. Among the entertainments will be two exhibitions by The Human Fly who gave an exhibition here last year in climbing the outside wall of the First National Bank building in the Square.

YEGGMEN BLOW VAULTS

GETTYSBURG POST OFFICE AND ARENDTSTOWN BANK ENTERED

Inner Safe Doors Saved Both Places From a Looting on Tuesday Night.

Gettysburg was startled Wednesday morning to learn that yeggmen had attempted to blow open the vault and safe in the Gettysburg post office during the night. And the mountain town of Arendtstown was all excitement over an attempt the same night to blow open the safes in the Arendtstown National Bank. Both attempts were failures as far as the theft of money was concerned for the burglars were unsuccessful in getting money and valuables. At both places a great deal of injury was done on the expensive vault doors. The two jobs have every appearance of being done by the same gang.

The course of events as far as can be gathered seems to be that the yeggmen entered Gettysburg by way of the Bonneauville road, traveling by a machine. On the way into town the farms of Oscar Deardorff and Charles Riley were visited and a number of horse and buggy blankets were stolen and these blankets were identified by the owners later, having been abandoned at the post office where they were used in deadening sound of explosions.

The noise, associated with the breaking into post office and blowing the vault door was heard in the neighborhood by at least two persons without distinguishing the cause, and the hour at which the noise was heard is said to have been shortly after 2 A. M.

The yeggmen entered the post office by breaking open the cellar door on the east side of the building and reached the first floor by breaking open the door from cellar to lobby at the south end. Then the office of the postmaster was entered by breaking the big pebbled glass in the door and access was gained to the large work room on south side of which is situated the vault door. The locking parts of this door are blown off according to appearances with nitro-glycerine and the vault being entered some attempt appeared to have been started on the inside safe but before they had proceeded far the gang seem to have been scared off in some way without entrance being gained into the inside safe.

Jesse Snyder, serving this week as the mail clerk, reached the post office about 4.45 A. M. and did not at first notice the work of the burglars but soon observing the vault door ajar, notified Postmaster Duncan and Sheriff John Hartman. The local State Police had gone to Harrisburg and the Chambersburg office being notified Trooper Hendler was early on the ground and gave orders that everything should remain as found until arrival of inspectors, finger-print experts, and others, and all the information possible to gather is being compiled toward running down these yeggmen.

The attempt on the Arendtstown Bank took place after 3 A. M. and four masked men were seen at the work in that town before the blasts occurred, and afterward four men were seen going down an alley, getting into a car and driving off in the direction of Mummasburg. There is no evidence of blankets being used on Arendtstown job. Entrance to the bank was secured through a cellar window, and from there a door was forced leading into the directors' room and access to main part of the bank. There were two explosions heard at Arendtstown and while the vault door was badly wrecked, entrance to the vault was not secured for the burglar alarm does not work until the door is opened and it had not sounded. The second blast evidently awoke the neighborhood and the burglars took to flight.

The jobs were evidently planned with knowledge that the State Police might be at the field meet at Harrisburg. Superficial knowledge is shown of the Gettysburg post office, yet the yeggmen must have known that three doors of building could be broken and the heavy glass door could have made a crash without arousing any watchman, the building being without such an official. The pinch bar, hammer and nunch left by the robbers on the floor of the bank seem to have been used at post office and were stolen from a tool house located near Orrtanna.

Marriage Bans Announced.

The bans of matrimony between Miss Margaret Favorite, of Emmitsburg, and Mr. Simon Stock, of Gettysburg, were published for the first time last Sunday in St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Emmitsburg. Mr. Stock is the youngest son of Mrs. Sarah Stock, Baltimore street.

Will Play Game at York.

The football squad from Gettysburg College will meet the Ursinus College team at York to-day, Oct. 15. The game will be played on the York Fair Grounds and will begin at 2.45 o'clock.

THE NURSING ASSOCIATION

REPORT OF ACTIVITIES DURING THE PAST YEAR.

Finances Are in Good Shape for Continuation of Work of the Association.

The Board of Directors of the Civic Nurse Association of Gettysburg held their annual meeting on Thursday evening in basement room of College Lutheran Church. Dr. J. A. Singmaster presided and read the following report of the year.

I have the honor as President of your association to submit the tenth annual report of the Board of Directors for the year ending October 1, 1921.

The Work of the Nurse.

Our nurse, Miss Mary Grove, has just completed her first term of service. Her work has been eminently satisfactory to both the patients whom she has visited and to the Board of Directors. She has gone quietly and efficiently about her business, winning the praise which she deserves.

A brief summary of her work is as follows: Number of families visited, 228; number of visits made, 1097; amount of fees collected, $276. An average of about twenty-five cents per visit.

In addition to visiting families, Miss Grove spent on the aggregate about twenty days and several nights assisting at the Annie M. Warner Hospital in times of emergency. These services were cheerfully and gratefully rendered and were much appreciated by the Superintendent Miss Stout.

The Relation to the Hospital.

The relations of our Association to the Hospital, as just indicated, are co-operative and cordial, both working to the same end. The experience of the past year confirms that of other places as to the continued need of hospitals. Though the number of visits is somewhat lower than last year, owing to the existence of the hospital and to the almost unprecedented good health of the community, it is still sufficiently large to justify the continuance of your association which has done such splendid work.

The Finances.

The Treasurer's report shows that expenses for the current year were $206 while the regular contributions and collections amounted to only $655.40. The deficit of $270.60 was made up by drawing on a balance which has been slowly accumulating and which now amounts to $900, invested as an emergency fund in Liberty Bonds. It is hoped that these will not have to be disturbed.

The insignificant balance of $275 is not in itself reassuring. But our good cause has the splendid asset of the confidence and the good-will of the public. We shall have to appeal to our friends for a return to the larger annual contributions which were received at first when a number gladly paid from $5.00 to $20.00. Lately only a few have been paying $10.00 and none more. The regular dues are only a dollar a year, or two cents a week. Surely there can be hardly a family among us that cannot afford so small a sum. The more prosperous should give very generously.

Moreover, those who are immediately benefited should endeavor to pay promptly the very moderate fees asked. It is not for a moment estimated, however, that the poorest may not avail themselves fully and freely of the services of the nurse.

Our collectors will wait upon the people very soon and we bespeak for them a cordial reception.

At the request of Miss Grove, the thanks of the Association are extended to the Needlework Guild of Gettysburg which has furnished her with garments and other articles for the use of her patients.

Respectfully submitted, I. A. Singmaster, President.

Women Hunters Get Licenses.

Stolen Car Found in Creek.

A "Templar" touring car belonging to H. Campbell, of Baltimore, was stolen as it was parked in front of a theatre in that city Friday night was found wrecked in the bed of the Big Conewago Creek at the stone bridge, along the Carlisle pike Saturday morning three quarters of a mile from Hampton.

The car must have been traveling at high speed as it hurled a three foot stone wall on the upstream side of the bridge. The machine lay in shallow water, bottom side up, and was badly smashed in the drop of more than 30 feet from the bridge. Mervin Sanders, tenant on Jesse Brodbeck's farm, and other farmers, pulled the wrecked touring car from the stream. Believing that the driver had been killed, a search of the stream was made. No body was found and it is now believed that the occupant or occupants of the car leaped to safety before the machine plunged off the bridge.

Jacob Eckert, a storekeeper of Hampton, notified the Baltimore police. They in turn, having been informed of the theft, communicated with Mr. Campbell. He came to the Brodbeck farm where the machine had been pulled into a shed, and identified it. As he carried burglary insurance he will let the company claim the car.

Mr. Campbell had gone to a theatre Friday night to play in a concert. He parked his machine at 9.30 o'clock and, returning at 11 o'clock, found that the machine had been stolen. It is believed the automobile went off the bridge at 12.40 o'clock Saturday morning as the clock on the instrument board stopped at that hour. The car made good time as the scene of the accident is more than 60 miles from Baltimore to the Baltimore pike, then passed through Hanover and continued out the Carlisle pike.

Sequel to Marriage Here.

Mrs. Grace Griswold is suing for a divorce in Minneapolis, Minn., from James B. Griswold, an ex-soldier. They were married in Gettysburg Aug. 7, 1916. He is an ex-soldier. The husband denies he is the lawful husband of the plaintiff, and makes the charge that their three-year-old son, James B., Jr., is not the child of either himself or his wife. He said the birth of the child was a fraud perpetrated on him and the federal government so Mrs. Griswold might get a government allowance during the war.

Accompanying the answer, which was filed simultaneously with Mrs. Griswold's complaint in District court is an affidavit signed by Mrs. Luella Laurenz, sister of Mrs. Griswold, quoring Mrs. Griswold as repeatedly saying she put it over on her husband in the birth of the child. The affidavit also alleges Mrs. Griswold participated in at least four marriage ceremonies and posed as the wife of five other men at various times, one of whom committed suicide, and for whom she wore crepe.

In her complaint Mrs. Griswold charges her husband with cruelty and inhumane treatment. She says she was married in Gettysburg Aug. 7, 1916. Griswold does not deny the marriage. In fact, he says they were married twice, both times in Gettysburg, once before the justice of the peace and another time by a preacher. Griswold, however, says she was already married to an army officer. While at Long Island City, N. Y., Griswold says, he came home to find his wife in bed and a baby in her arms. A strange woman was in attendance. The confinement was faked, he alleges, and the strange woman in attendance was the real mother of the child, although he did not discover this until recently.

In an Unfortunate Accident.

Charles T. Ziegler, of this place, was in an unfortunate accident in York Tuesday afternoon. According to story told by Mr. Ziegler he was in the act of backing his Peerless car into the traffic lane when he noticed another machine in his path. In an effort to avoid a collision he released his gears and attempted to throw the auto into reverse again, but instead he put in low and shot upon the pavement. Wm. H. Brodbeck, a former county treasurer of York county, was leaning against a trunk on the pavement in front of Bear's Department Store. The trunk against which Mr. Brodbeck was leaning lay directly in the path of the automobile and the machine hit it pushing it toward the display window, with the man caught in such a manner that he was unable to make his escape. Both were thrown against the window with such force that the glass broke. The man was picked from the mass of broken glass and rushed to the York Hospital, where later he regained consciousness. Mr. Ziegler was ordered to appear next Tuesday to answer any charges growing out of the unfortunate accident.

Mr. Rhodes Injures Ankle.

Several days ago John Rhodes, one of the proprietors of the Rhodes Mill along the Emmitsburg road, south of town, met with an accident when a heavy plank fell and struck him on the ankle. At the time the injury was not considered serious but later the pain became very severe and it was discovered that several bones had been broken in the ankle joint. It was found necessary to put the foot in a plaster cast to adjust the fracture.

Bib Bread Truck Burns.

The largest truck of the fleet of the Hanover Steam Bakery was totally destroyed by fire at 3.30 Wednesday morning a short distance north of Hartman's Mill, along the Abbottstown pike in Berwick township, about five miles from Hanover. The truck, with Packard chassis, carried a tremendous body and had a capacity of 4000 loaves of bread. More than 2500 loaves of bread were burned. The loss is placed at $5,500 by C. H. Varner and Claude Meckley, owners of the bakery, who carried $2,000 insurance.

According to the story of John R. Meckley, the driver of the truck, the flames made such rapid headway that he was unable to come with them. He was driving slowly toward Abbottstown when he noticed a light in the body of the truck. Believing the dome light was burning he stooped to turn it off, but discovered that the light he had seen was the reflection of the fire that had already enveloped the rear of the body. He ran to a nearby farm house for help and returned with buckets of water, but by the time he got back the fire was beyond control. Nothing remained but the steel chassis and motor. Even the tires were burned from the rims. The truck carried shipments of bread for Abbottstown, East Berlin, New Oxford and Gettysburg.

The Annan, Horner Co. was one of the oldest private banking companies in Maryland and in keeping with the spirit of the times it was deemed advisable from a business standpoint to branch out under State supervision. CALL FOR MEETING NOV. 1

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COM-MITTEE AT ST. LOUISTo Discuss Party Policy and to Adopt Plans for Future
Operations.The following call has gone out for a meeting of the Democratic National Committee.To the members of the Democratic National Committee:

The Democratic National Committee is hereby called to meet at St. Louis, Mo., on Tuesday, Nov. 1, 1921, at the Hotel Jefferson, at 12 o'clock noon, of the said date, in order to receive a report on the work of the Chairman, to discuss party policy and to adopt plans for future operations. Sufficient time has elapsed since the last meeting of the committee to make it advisable to have a survey of the situation throughout the country and to have the counsel of the entire membership of the committee.

GEORGE WHITE, Chairman.

The meeting will resemble a national convention, the chief purpose being to condemn the Harding Administration for failure to fulfill, through the two Republican Houses of Congress, the platform pledges made by the party during the campaign.

To this end the meeting is to be thrown wide open to those speakers who wish to compare Republican achievements with those of Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic Congress during the first hundred days of the new Administration.

That the meeting is to be held on the eve of the opening of the Conference on Limitation of Armament is said to be due politically to the suggestion of Democrats of the inner circle of the Wilson Administration, and that the party organization should endeavor now to clear the way for the election of a Democratic House in 1922.

Governor James M. Cox, the Democratic candidate for President in 1920, recently said:

"The events of the past year, notwithstanding they brought defeat at the polls, are heartening to the cause of Democracy. In the midst of chaos internally and uncertainty in Republican policy, we stand inflexibly, as we did when the polls closed last November, for the League of Nations, with the United States as a co-operative part of it. It is infinitely better to maintain a vital principle, even though it involve a temporary setback, than it is to surrender honor to expediency for the mere purpose of winning an election."

"History will record the abandonment of our allies as an unworthy episode. It would have been no worse if our troops had been withdrawn from France on the morning of the battle of Chateau-Thierry. The spectacle of regarding the Hay-Pauncote treaty as a scrap of paper, just as we begin conferences with a group of nations on disarmament, is a sad commentary on the behavior of a country whose life and traditions have been above reproach."

"Apparently the national Administration is guided in its nondescript policies by the un-American elements that made its election possible. We are not a renegade nation and we will not for long permit ourselves to appear to others. Good faith in our relations will endure as a private and a national virtue. When sober reflection brings proper understanding to our pathetic status in world affairs, vindication of the democracy will be expressed in no misanthropic terms."

The Hay-Pauncote Scrap of Paper.

In 1850 this nation and Great Britain signed the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, setting down in black and white that the two countries would build a canal across the isthmus, share and share alike in its control and its building. Americans did not like the joint-control idea. In 1901 the Hay-Pauncote Treaty was made transferring to America all rights in construction and ownership, the one stipulation being, as set forth in Article III of the treaty:

"The canal shall be free and open to all vessels of commerce and war of all nations observing these rules, on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation or its citizens or subjects in respect of the conditions of charges of traffic or otherwise."

This week by vote of 47 to 37 the Senate decides United States should not keep its word and the Philadelphia Ledger comments:

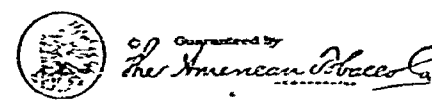

"It seems that we made a treaty and accepted it for eleven years. We then decided that we would not be bound by the accepted interpretation; that we would not keep our word. Two years later, convicted but not convinced, we undid what we had done. Seven years later finds us picking up the same handful of mud and plastering it on our own front door."

"Legal right we may have to pass the Borah measure, but it is hard to discover our moral right. All the argument advanced by the Borah followers fails to convince millions of Americans that we have a right to do as we please or that the Senate interpretation is the just interpretation."

"There is a feeling that we are breaking faith on the very eve of a conference that must be based on good faith and mutual understanding. That we are chilling friendliness, generosity and good-will at a time when we need these things."

No Leadership, No Program, No Policy.

Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, floored the Republican Senate Leader the other day in answering a report, saying:

"The Senator talks about President Wilson, and how the Democrats once acted, that all he had to do was to speak from the White House and they acted accordingly; we heard a great deal about them being rubber-stamps. The Senator should be the last one in the world to bring that up. If there ever was a crowd of Senators submissive to the will of the President it is the Republican Senators at the present time. You have not any views on any proposition. You change and you wiggle and wobble from one to the other. You have no program and you know it. You make up one on one day and the next day you have changed your policy."

The lack of leadership, of a program or a policy, either in the legislative or executive branch of the administration, is not only becoming notorious, but it has been the sole cause of delay in legislation in this Congress. The Democrats have not used any obstructive tactics whatever, but have continuously sought to expedite legislation and to aid it by constructive suggestion and amendments.

Annual U. B. Conference.

The Pennsylvania Annual Conference of the United Brethren in Christ convened in the U. B. Church at Chambersburg on Wednesday of last week and was in session several days.

The conference awarded certificates of honor to a number of ministers and deaconesses for the completion of a four years' course in seminary instruction. A number were given honorary mention for the completion of a year's work and writing of a satisfactory paper, one of them being Rev. Edward H. Hummelbaugh, Gettysburg, pastor of the U. B. Church.

The conference sent special greetings to Dr. Z. A. Colestock, the oldest preacher of the denomination, and a former resident of Adams county, who on Tuesday fell down a flight of stairs at the Quincy Orphanage and Home for Aged Persons, thus injuring himself so as to hinder him from attending the present session of the conference. Dr. Colestock, who is well known through the conference and denomination, is 97 years of age and has been in the ministry for almost eighty years. He has not missed the roll call of the annual conference for seventy years and had planned to be present at this session.

Rev. Dr. A. B. Statton, of Hagerstown, was re-elected Conference Superintendent for another year.

Among the young men preparing for the ministry passed by the Committee on Reading Courses was Harry Kottler, of Bendersville.

Eighteen changes in pastorates were announced at the close of the conference. The appointments made or continued for Adams county and nearby were the following:

J. E. B. Rice from Jefferson charge to Littlestown.

T. D. Ritter at Bendersville.

Harry C. Kottler, at Biglerville.

Edward H. Hummelbaugh at Gettysburg.

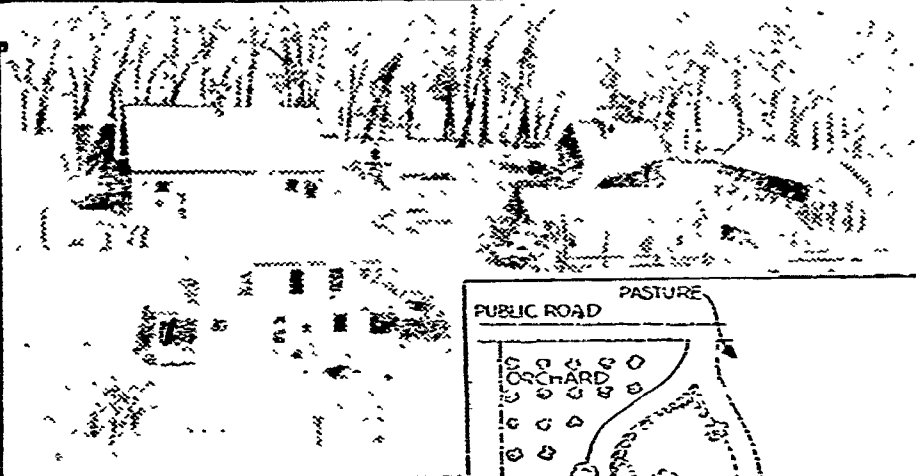

Frank L. Stine at Mont Alto.

W. C. Wachter at Taneytown.

J. O. Green at Thurmont.

Science Plans Model Homestead

Nebraska's College of Agriculture has constructed a model farmstead for that state. In the picture model, which is herewith printed by special arrangements with Popular Science Monthly, the various buildings have been laid out, so that the farmer walks around the circle in doing his chores. Many farmers, it is said, think of wasted motion only in relation to their machinery, never in relation to their own movements.

In this plan, the barns and yards are located so that the prevailing wind will carry offensive odors away from the house. All the buildings also are placed so as to act as windbreaks to garden and yards. Nearly all fences serve two purposes. The barn has a central alley to allow the winds to blow through it from south to north. Generally, the plan lightens drudgery and aims to make for pleasant appearances and good views.

Duties of Constables as to Liquors.

President Judge Gillian of our neighboring county, Franklin, at a recent court directed the attention of constables to their duties in the matter of sales of liquor as follows: and what was said would apply to conditions in many other counties:

"There seems to be some misapprehension of the duties of the state officers with reference to the enforcement of the law regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors. There has been passed an amendment to our national constitution, forbidding the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors within the territory of all the United States. In pursuance of that amendment to the constitution and by authority thereof, Congress has defined 'intoxicating liquors.' The act of Congress defining it is known as the 'Volstead Law.' We, as officers of the state government, have nothing to do with enforcing the act of Congress; but our own state legislature has passed an act declaring that in this state 'intoxicating liquors' shall mean any liquors found and determined to be intoxicating by act of Congress. There are those who think that the Volstead Law is unjust and arbitrary. Whatever may be thought of the law, an officer is bound, under his oath, to aid in enforcing that law. The law of Pennsylvania declares the selling of intoxicating liquors to be a misdemeanor. There are no persons in this county licensed to sell intoxicating liquors. Therefore, whoever sells them is guilty of violating the law."

"It is made the duty of every constable to return to the court the names of those who sell liquors unlawfully in his bailiwick. The constable who neglects to return such sales, knowing them to have been made, is himself guilty of a misdemeanor and can be severely punished. But more than that, it is the duty of the constable to learn of such sales. I am fully persuaded that liquor is being illegally sold in this county. I am persuaded that persons from abroad bring it here and sell it to our citizens. I am just as fully persuaded that the officers of law know of these illegal sales. It is the duty of such officers to prosecute every one guilty of such sales. The constable is not justified in waiting to return the same to this court, but it is his duty on learning of these sales to at once make information against the offender, have him arrested, and brought to justice. While we have no control over the state constabulary, nor have we any direct control over the policemen appointed by the different boroughs we say this, and say it most emphatically, that any officer of the law, whether he belong to the state constabulary, or to the police forces of the different boroughs, or whether he be a constable of a township or a borough, who knows of this violation of the law and the person who is guilty of it, and fails to prosecute, is not fit to be such officer. I am fully persuaded that any vigilant officer, who wants to do his duty, can detect and bring to justice these violators of the law. We hope that each officer will do his duty and that it will not be necessary again to refer to this matter."

Constitutional Convention Lost.

The people of Pennsylvania voted down the proposition for a constitutional convention by a majority of 99,608 at the special election held on September 20, according to the official computation of the votes of the various counties made at the State Bureau of Elections.

The vote on the convention of the sixty-seven counties is announced as: For, 419,191; against, 518,889.

The vote in Adams county was 895 for and 1766 against. The neighboring counties voted: York, 4560 for and 6500 against; Franklin, 2291 for and 2044 against; Cumberland, 3325 for and 3201 against.

The vote of the State for Congressmen-at-large is announced as: Thomas S. Crago, Republican, 705,876; John P. Bracken, Democrat, 221,288; Cora Bixler, Socialist, 29,837; B. E. P. Prugh, 74,837. Crago's majority over Bracken, 484,588, over all, 279,919. The certificate of Colonel Crago's election was immediately issued and sent to Washington.

Complete figures on the Democratic vote for the Supreme Court nomination show Judge Eugene C. Bonnell, Philadelphia, to have been the nominee. He received 4317 votes under correct spelling of his name and 1335 under incorrect spelling; while Justice William I. Schaffner received 2852; H. S. Dambaud, Uniontown, 2263; Charles Palmer, Delaware, 552.

Pig Club Round-Ups.

During the next eight weeks the eighty-nine pig feeding and pig breeding clubs conducted by County Farm Bureaus, co-operating with the Pennsylvania State College, will hold their round-ups. Those clubs are composed of farm boys and girls organized for the purpose of demonstrating in their respective communities the better practices of swine husbandry, including value of pure bred animals, proper methods of feeding, housing and management.

In addition, these young folks are learning the value of a dollar and becoming interested at an early age in pure bred livestock of the proper type. It nearly always happens that they are able to "show" their parents and neighbors results that are far above the average for the community.

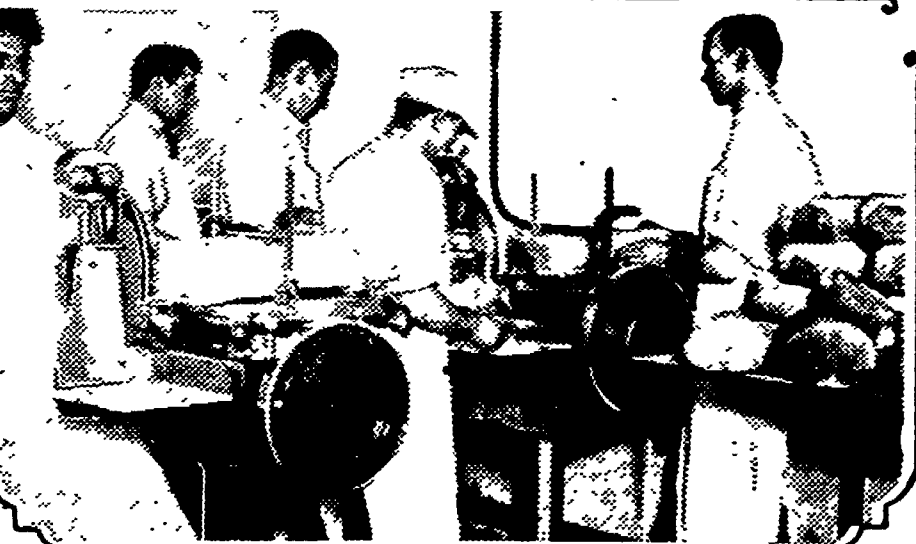

Asst. County Agent S. B. Shenk calls attention to the Adams County Pig Club Round-ups which will be held on Thursday, Oct. 20th, at Gettysburg and invites all who are interested in swine production and the welfare of these young people who are interested in these clubs, to come and see the results of their work for this year.

Army Doctors in Camp Here.

Seventy U. S. Army Medical Officers from the Carlisle barracks spent this week here, being encamped in the field along the avenue just east of Spangler's Spring. They are in command of Capt. Blackwell and have been doing some special training in field hospital work. They will break camp and return to Carlisle to-day.

NOT LIKE MA'S SANDWICHES

With thousands of restaurants and nearly every drug store now having a lunch counter, one of the biggest industries in New York City is the daily manufacture of at least a million sandwiches. Science and invention have stepped in, and now there are special machines for cutting up bread, ham, chicken, and for putting the sandwich together and wrapping it in oiled paper; also there are formulas for making the more liquid ingredients, like pimento cheese, in huge quantities. We have the above picture of a New York sandwich factory by special arrangements with Popular Science Monthly.

A GETTYSBURG INTERVIEW.

Miss Dillman Tells Her Experience. The following brief account of an interview with a Gettysburg woman five years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Miss Mary Dillman, 263 S. Washington St., Gettysburg, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are, in my opinion, a very fine remedy for weak kidneys. My back was very weak and hurt me all the time. Backache bore down on me as if I had a great weight on my back. My kidneys were too frequent in action and when I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills I purchased some at the People's Drug Store. This remedy gave me fine relief and has never since failed to benefit me when it was necessary to use them."

The above statement was given February 15, 1916, and on April 11, 1921, Miss Dillman said: "Nothing could ever make me go back on Doan's Kidney Pills. This very fine kidney medicine drove all symptoms of kidney trouble from me. Every once in a while I take a few of Doan's to be sure my kidneys are still in good shape."

MARRIAGES.

Wescott — Mummert. — The marriage of Miss Ethyl Mummert, daughter of Mrs. Florence Mummert of 810 North Sixth street, Harrisburg, to Raymond Wescott, of Dennisville, N. J., was solemnized last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride. The officiating clergymen were Rev. Donald B. Mummert, of Northumberland, brother of the bride, and the Rev. Dr. Lewis S. Mudge, pastor of the Pine Street Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Chester B. Mummert, was attended by Miss Eleanor J. Goldsmith, daughter of former Representative J. B. Goldsmith, of Mt. Pleasant, as maid of honor. A reception followed the wedding ceremony. After a wedding trip Mr. Wescott and his bride will live for the present at home of the bride. Mrs. Mummert, mother of the bride, was a native of York Springs, and with her husband, the late A. B. Mummert, lived a number of years at East Berlin. Among the guests present were Miss Mary Pearson and Miss Hazel Pearson, of York Springs, cousins of the bride, and Miss Phoenice Hoffheins, of East Berlin.

France Testing New Roads.

Contrary to past practice, composition road surfaces are being put down by the French highway authorities in the Rhone valley. At Givors a test is being made of two miles of an Italian composition. This has a cement basis and is guaranteed for 15 years. The road authorities have expressed their willingness to experiment with competitive types of road material. Of 33,000 miles of roads that required repairs at the time of the armistice, 13,620 miles have been greatly improved, and 2,200 miles have been completely repaired.—Compressed Air Magazine.

Paris War Library.

Over 100,000 volumes and almost as many pamphlets, etc., have been collected by the French government, and a building will be erected having five miles of shelving. The future historian will probably die in the first mile. The collection of manuscripts, photographs and war records is appalling as to numbers, and there seems to be no limit to the gifts of collectors. In this country Princeton university and the University of California are especially strong on war material.—Scientific American.

to impress upon people the necessity of observing the laws prohibiting inhumanity to animals. Local humane societies always prefer avoiding prosecutions for cruelty, if compatible with justice, and it is with the hope of promoting this policy that the Federated Humane Societies of Pennsylvania has asked this its readers.

The object of all humane societies is to prevent cruelty to animals, and not to prosecute unless it feels that it is its duty to do so.

The fines which those who ill-treat animals may have to pay range from $10 to $500, with possible imprisonment also.

ARENDTSVILLE.

M. E. Funt, of near this place, was assisting in putting in the stone wall that Frank Kime is building where his old one was burnt several months ago and while dressing a stone a sharp spall struck his right eye and cut the eye ball. He is now in the Annie M. Warner Hospital at Gettysburg where the eye ball was taken out and he is getting along nicely. He owns a small farm and quite a lot of his kind neighbors cut off his corn.

Walter Taylor, who has been suffering during the last two years with inflammatory rheumatism, is still an invalid and not able to work. Wm. E. Moose, tenant on Rev. D. T. Koser's farm, lost a valuable cow by death. She only showed symptoms of being sick about an hour before she died.

Geo. Taylor, of Millersburg, Perry county, is visiting relatives here. Late potatoes are a full crop here but the Irish are only a half crop. Hiram C. Lavy reports a sweet potato that weighs 4 lbs. 5 ozs. The first frost of the season Thursday morning.

Fell from Balcony.

A serious mishap befell the venerable John D. Richter, of near Green Spring, Berwick township, early one morning this week.

Mr. Richter resides with his son, Squire Chas. Richter, and wife, at the family homestead, and passing a restless night and becoming confused, pulled the bedclothes from his bed and going to the balcony swung himself from the railing, landing on the bundle of bedclothes underneath.

His son being awakened by the thud, went down stairs and found his father lying in an unconscious condition. He summoned his brother, Edward Richter, who lives nearby into the house. Dr. T. C. Miller was and they carried the injured man summoned from Abbotstown. Mr. Richter, Sr., is 85 years of age and had his nose broken and several lacerations on his lips. He is resting as comfortably as can be expected.

The Catch.

A New England spinster was much enamored of a neighboring farmer, but the affection was not returned. One day, starting on one of his weekly visits to town, the maiden came rushing out, crying:

"Too-hoo, Mr. Simpkins, do you mind taking me with you?"

The farmer considered warily and finally allowed her to climb in.

In vain the lady tried every topic of conversation without eliciting response and finally in desperation fell back on the passing bits of scenery. Going by the minister's house, she cried: "Oh, Mr. Simpkins, what a beautiful hitching post Pastor Watson has."

"Gee durn," cried the other cracking his whip, "I knowed there was a hitch in it somewhere. Dohlin, giddap. Ma'am, that's fer hosses only."—American Legion Weekly.

WIDOW LIVING ALONE DIES

THE BODY IS NOT DISCOVERED FOR 18 DAYS.

Mrs. Alice E. Myers, of Hampton, Dies at Her Home While Believed to be Visiting.

Hampton, Adams county was thrown into excitement last Sunday morning shortly after 9 o'clock when it became known that Mrs. Alice Eliza Myers, East Berlin street, had been found dead in a stairway at her home, death having in all probability occurred 16 to 18 days ago. The discovery was made by an only daughter, Mrs. Harvey Cashman, who resides on a farm near the Pines Church, Adams county, who came to visit her.

Her death was probably caused by heart failure as she entered the stairway to go to the second floor, and unable to summon anyone, she sank down and expired. The body was badly decomposed when found, making an immediate interment necessary. This took place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

It seems that Friday of Hanover Fair week, or on September 23, she told neighbors of her intention of going to Hanover to the fair and asked them to feed her chickens for her. The next day she was not seen about the house but nothing was thought of her absence, it being supposed she was in Hanover. The following Sunday the daughter who found her came to see her, but being informed of her going to Hanover, she thought nothing of the matter, believing she was visiting friends and relatives.

Because Mr. Cashman was ill she could not come back to call upon her mother until Sunday, when learning she was not in Hanover, and finding the house locked, the investigation which resulted in the gruesome discovery was made. The attending physician asserts there was no foul play, nothing being disturbed in the house.

The dead woman was a daughter of the late Hamilton and Rebecca Myers, of near Round Hill. She was the widow of the late Searight Myers, who died about eight years ago, since which time she has been living alone. Her age was 70 years, 5 months and 22 days.

Surviving her is an only daughter, Mrs. Harvey Cashman, and three sisters, Mrs. P. A. Fickes and Mrs. Geo. W. Wirtz, of Hanover, and Mrs. Enamie King, of Waynesboro. Rev. Luther Stauffer, of New Chester, officiated at brief services after which interment was made at Hampton.

Further services were then held in the Lutheran Church in Hampton.

Mrs. Tillie E. Groscoast, wife of Charles Groscoast, died at her home near York, Oct. 7, aged 55 years and 21 days. Funeral services and interment was made at the New Chester Reformed Church.

Mrs. Jacob J. Wolf, of Abbotstown, died at her home Sunday morning after an illness of about three weeks, aged 57 years, 11 months and 26 days. Surviving her are her father, John Miller, who resided with the family; her husband and six children: Mrs. F. K. Hafer and Mrs. Emma Alwine, of Abbotstown; Mrs. Lloyd Wolf and Mrs. Paul Herre, Harrisburg; Mrs. Ralph Roth, of Spring Grove, and J. Homer Wolf, at home. She is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: Dr. T. C. Miller, Mrs. E. E. Jacobs and Irvin Miller, of Abbotstown; Mrs. P. K. Cleaver and Clyde W. Miller, of Dundalk, Md.; Harry Miller, of Lemoine; Mrs. Jesse Albright, of Hampton, and Mrs. Chase Pittenturf, of York Springs. Funeral was on Wednesday, services by Rev. John W. Keener, of the Reformed Church, New Oxford, assisted by Rev. Walter R. Garrett, of Hallam. Interment was made in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Abbotstown.

Joseph Rose, of near Emmitsburg, a veteran of the Civil War, died at the Hebrew Hospital, Baltimore, on last Friday evening. Mr. Rose was born in Adams county, Pa., in 1844. During the Civil War he served in Company G, 29th Pennsylvania Regiment. The funeral took place on Tuesday morning with services at the Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg, by Rev. W. C. Day. Members of the F. X. Elder Post, American Legion acted as pallbearers. Interment was in the Lutheran Cemetery. Mr. Rose is survived by his wife and the following children: Mrs. H. E. Gorman, of Baltimore; John Rose, of near Gettysburg; Miss Anna Rose, of Baltimore; C. J. Rose, of San Pedro, Cal.; Mrs. J. S. Rea, of Baltimore; L. F. Rose, of Rockford, Ill.; H. E. Rose, of near Emmitsburg; Mrs. Alvey Shorb, of near Gettysburg; Mrs. Howard Bowling, of near Fairfield, and G. W. Rose, at home.

Alice Marie Stevens, infant daughter of Aloysius J. Stevens, of Hanover, and the late Mary Alveta Stevens, who died a week ago, died Tuesday aged 4 weeks and 1 day. Surviving the child is the father and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Viola Wiernman, of McSherrystown, and Maybells, Helen, Robert, Ralph, Donald, Frederick and Bernard, at home. The funeral was held from St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

Hanover, by Rev. J. A. Huber, and interment was made in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Christie C. Trimmer, for 42 years a brick mason and contractor in Topeka, Kan., died at his home in that place Sept. 18. He had been in ill health since last December. It is estimated that Mr. Trimmer had part in building at least half the brick houses in Topeka. Mr. Trimmer went to Topeka in 1879 after learning his trade in Springfield, Ill. He was a son of Gibson and Katherine Trimmer and was born near York Springs May 31, 1855. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Tom Parker, of Emporia, Kan., also the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. B. S. Miller, of Huntington township; D. W. Trimmer, of Springfield, Ohio; Mrs. C. Shultz, of East Berlin; and Lewis Trimmer, of Carlisle.

Punishment for Cruelty to Animals.

Citizens of Pennsylvania should realize more fully than is now generally the case that the laws of this State provide severe punishment for persons who are cruel to birds and animals.

Draft animals that are crippled, diseased, weak, thin, or have sores, and which suffer from pain therefrom, must not be worked.

Small animals, dogs and cats, must not be wounded and left to suffer and die. The killing must be instantaneous, and humanely done.

Birds must not be wounded by gun or otherwise and left to suffer and die.

Horses, mules and cattle must not be overworked, underfed or starved. Work animals must be blanketed when exposed to the cold.

Animals (including poultry), may not be carried or transported in an inhumane manner; infirm or disabled animals may not be abandoned by their owners; cock and dog fighting are heavily punishable, and the animals are forfeited to the Humane Society prosecuting; a disabled, unfit horse may not be sold nor offered for sale; the udder of a cow may not be kneaded nor padded, nor the cow permitted to go un milked, nor prevented from suckling its calf for 24 hours, for a mercenary purpose; maiming and poisoning animals is punishable by penitentiary imprisonment.

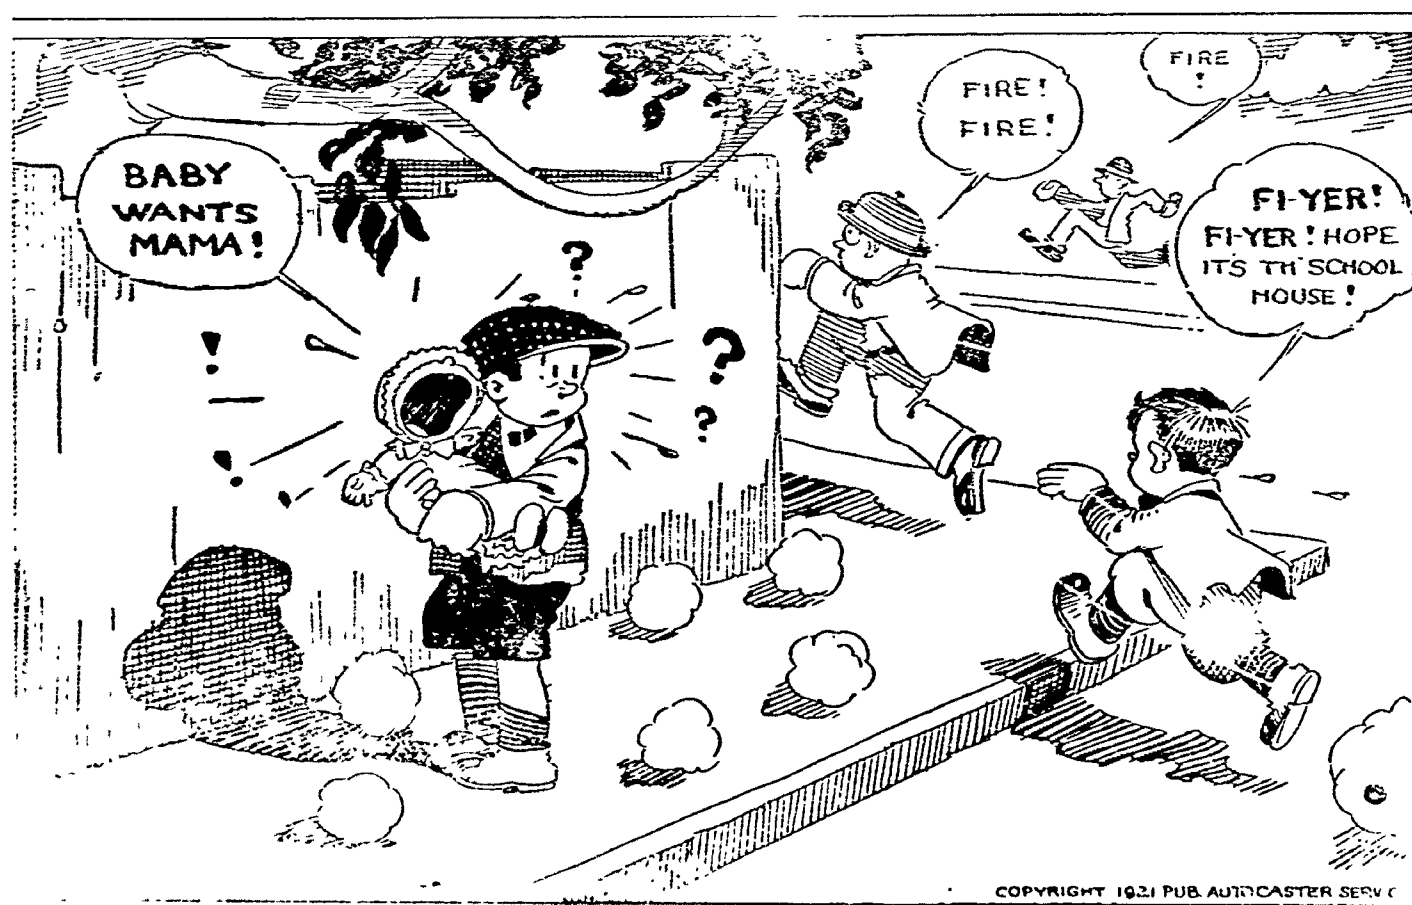

Overdriving a livery horse means fine and imprisonment.

Cruelty to animals seems to be commoner in industrial communities than in other places.

It is the design of the wise and just Pennsylvania laws that animals of all kinds shall be well cared for. These laws should be carefully obeyed, by both natives and foreigners.
